

लखनऊ विश्वविद्यालय, लखनऊ University of Lucknow, Lucknow

Press Note 11 July 2020

The Department of English and Modern European Languages, University of Lucknow organised an Interactive Zoom Session on ‘Investigating Texts and Subject Positions in Post-Colonial Literature’ on July 11, 2020 from 11:00 am to 1:00 pm. Professor Ranu Uniyal, Head of Department initiated the session by welcoming and introducing the two invited speakers. The first panel speaker for the session, Prof. Mohammad Asim Siddiqui from Aligarh Muslim University, delivered a lecture on the topic “Why is Edward Said important in Post-Colonial Literature?” that provided a deeply insightful and informative presentation on the subject. The second invited guest speaker, Prof. Dhananjay Singh from Jawaharlal Nehru University, delivered an address on “Memorialized Word as an Anti-Colonial Voice in Contemporary Irish English Poetry: Reading Seamus Heaney.” Giving detailed references to Irish history and culture, Prof. Singh’s lecture provided a comprehensive overview of the topic with reference to the theme of the webinar. The session was attended by various faculty members, research scholars and students from different universities and colleges across India.