Report

Mission Shakti

(An Initiative by the Government of Uttar Pradesh)

Theme: Wujood-e Zan Se Hai Tasweer-e Kainaat Mein Rang

The Department of Persian, University of Lucknow, under the aegis of Mission Shakti Phase-III (an initiative by the government of Uttar Pradesh), organized a cultural extravaganza entitled Wujood-e Zan Se Hai Tasweer-e Kainaat Mein Rang today i.e. 16th December, 2021 at 11:00 am. The program lasted for two hours in which the students of the Department showcased their talents in poetry and speeches. Besides, hand made posters by the students of the Department of Persian were also displayed on the occasion.

The program started with the welcome of the esteemed guests. It was a small and compact assembly of students, both former and current ones, as well as faculty members from the Department and associated colleges. It was, in fact, a galaxy of academicians, litterateurs and enthusiasts of Persian literature. Prof. Abdul Haleem from the Department of Persian, Jmaia Millia Islamia, New Delhi and Dr. Tasneem Kausar Chishti from the Dept. of Persian, Karamat Husain Muslim Girls P.G. College, Lucknow added to the significance of the event with their benign presence.

The girl students of the Department welcomed the esteemed guests with a welcome song Swagatam, Swagatam... Dr. Syed Ghulam Nabi Ahmad, Assistant Professor, Department of Persian, University of Lucknow, formally delivered welcome address. He singled out Prof. Madhurima Lall, the Convener of Mission Shakti Phase-III, for special praise for her sincere efforts towards women empowerment. He also threw light on the importance of women in literature saying that there have been strong female characters in almost every literature. After formal welcome address, the students of the department delivered illuminating speeches on women empowerment. They spoke at length on the issues faced by women nowadays. Domestic violence, increasing crimes against women, safety of women, female education etc. were some of the issues on which the students spoke their heart out giving the audience some food for thoughts on an all important issue of women empowerment.

In the next segment of the program, the students of the Department recited Urdu ghazals and enthralled the audience with their beautiful rendition of poetry. Woman power was at its full circle in this particular program in which many budding poets and poetesses manifested their creative self and vented ire against the indolent and insensitive approach of society towards problems and issues concerning the women of the country. A woman dons different roles of a daughter, sister wife and mother with great elan and never wilts under pressure... at times she epitomises tender emotional feelings of a mother and at times she is as firm as rock...these were some of the ideas which were beautifully reflected in the poetry of the students.

After the Ghazal recitation program was over, Dr. Shabib Anwar Alvi, Assistant Professor, Dept. of Persian, University of Lucknow, appreciated the efforts of the students in his brief speech saying that nowadays the perception of common people towards girl child has changed and people are more welcoming and happier in their approach at the birth of a girl child than a baby boy. He lauded the efforts of UP government for taking a proactive role towards women empowerment and also thanked Prof. Madhurima Lall for executing the Mission Shakti program so efficiently.

Prof. Madhurima Lall, in her presidential address, spoke widely on the scope, objective and the mission of the Mission Shakti program launched by the Uttar Pradesh government. Moreover, she lavishly praised the efforts of the students of the Department of Persian for putting up such a splendid show. She was also forthcoming in recognizing the efforts of Dr. Arshadul Quadri, Assistant Professor, Department of Persian, and the coordinator of the program, for conceiving the whole event. She also thanked HoD, Persian, Prof. Umar Kamaluddin for grooming his students so well.

Last but not the least, Prof. Umar Kamaluddin, Head, Dept. of Persian, University of Lucknow, formally proposed vote of thanks to finally put curtain on a magnificent cultural extravaganza on women empowerment. He showered generous praise on Prof. Madhurima Lall for her support and motivation. He honestly admitted that it was due to the encouragement and motivation of Prof. Lall that such a wonderful program could see the light of the day. The program finally concluded with high tea hosted by the Department of Persian. Meanwhile, hand made posters depicting various facets of women were also on display which were well appreciated by the audience.
